This goals worksheet can be used three times during the year (just have the students circle the correct season in the upper right). Be sure to discuss what each type of goal is. The first two are fairly obvious. I usually encourage students to make the personal goal a fun one. So rather than something like, "I will make my bed every day." I would suggest, "I will learn to learn to draw three new Manga characters." Be sure to leave time at the end of each season or quarter to review and fill in the last line.
